No public document for years bas been ooked for with so much anxlety by th y the Federal Government towards the cople, for all have felt that the moment cople of the seeeding States, met in a s question of PEACE or WAR was to e decided by h.

And as the lightning yesterday bore th ords we print as they fell from the lips of the President, to every town and eity in the country, millions of freemen heard Keutuckians. them with such feelings as only the pa trlot can experience at the announcemen that one section of his country is to mee nother section in battle's stern array, that proceedings to-morrow. rother must meet brother with sword and bayouet, and that our fair fields and cautiful plains must be drenched in the lood of the honest husbandmen who are now cultivating them. We have heard but one opinion of the nangural expressed; and that opinion is, that it is a Declaration of War. We do not think any other construction can be put on it; for, though it bears some races of the Jesuitism of their Premier, It is too clear, too direct, too explicit to be nlsunderstood, or to leave room for hope of peace. Its maln positions may be sninmed up ln few words:

1. He considers the Chleago platform as a LAW" to his party and himself, to be carried out ln lts letter and spirit. 2. He will carry out the Constitution, as als party understand it, and protect the rights of the States, as asserted by Massausets and Illinois. 3. He wants the Fugliive Slave Law nodified so as to better guard the persons

4 He would have it provided by law. hat the clause of the Constitution which guarantees that the citizens of each State shall be entitled to all the privileges and Immunities of citizens in the several States, shall be enforced. As he differs from the Dred Scott decision on this subect, he would doubtless insist on giving the egro voter of Massachusetts all the privleges and lumunities of citizenship in Sentucky. 5. He is not willing for the policy of the Government to be fixed by the decisions of the Supreme Court, which, in matters pertaining to public affairs, he would regard as of no more authority than the opinions of six or seven able lawyers in a jail and will remain there until called for erivate statute.

6. He does not think that the Union i lissolved, maintaining that the Confedera v is indissoluble. 7. He holds that the action of the people the secoded States is legally void and of effect, and should not be recognized by he Federal authorities. 8. Any acts of the Government of the Confederate States which may be at varince with the laws or policy of the Gov-crument at Washlugton will be treated as Insurrectionary and revolutionary. 9. Regarding the Union as unbroken, he till take care that the laws of the governent over which he presides shall be faith fully executed in "ALL THE STATES." 10. He will collect all duties and impost

OY OF THE POOR GENTLEMAN, AND THE DHAMA OF THE WRECKERS .- Mr. Elmore's benefit last night was anything but a benefit except in name. From the appearance of the house, we should judge that nearly the en-tire population of Louisville were busily engaged, probably in reading the lnaugural of Mr. Lincoln. We clip the following account of the event, and the success of the young debutante from the Herald of Thursday: Miss Kellogg's debut, so long expected, was evidently regarded as as a first-class fashlonable sensatiou. The beau monde turned out in hill force, and made an ex-receively brilliant display. The debuts nic was evidently frightened at the first view of the very extraordinary seene presented to her inexperienced eyes, and in the duet with the baritone could hardly find her voice. She soon recovered herself, and attacked the succeeding doct with the attacked the succeeding duct with the mor, and the sallent aria which follows it truor, and the salient aria which follows it, in a wonderfully courageons way. The execution of these two pieces must be considered as a test, and by it the new singer is to be judged. Miss Kellegg sings admirably well; she has evidently been well taught, and her school and method could not be improved. She lacks artistic involvation sinter methods and method could not be improved. could not be improved. She lacks artistic inspiration, sings mechanically, and has a high soprano volce, rather thin throughout, and very deficient in the lower register—this latter is perhaps, her greatest ter—this latter is perhaps, her greatest defect. Under these circumstances it is quite impossible to make any reliable predictions as to her artistic tuture. It is not enough in an operatic singer that she should sing a scale or execute a cadenza or trill well; to satisfy the requirements of the modern repertoirs she must have plenty of voice, dramatic ferver, and musical inspiration. Young hadies who are maxious to come out may as well keep these facts in mind. These reflections are altogether impersonal.

AN UNFORTUNATE FAMILY—There are persons visited at certain periods of their lives by such a series of misfortunes that it is hard for them not to believe in spells, or what the Italians call jettatura.

About three weeks ago, Mr. Joseph B. Aucolu, a respectable chilzen of Plattenville, raissed one of his children, six years old. He immediately went for it all about the premises, and dually discovered it drowned in the well of his house.

Six or seven days after this sad accident, another child of the same famly fell into a large earthenware cistern tail of rain water, and would have also perished if a person who happily was passing by had not seen it in time to take him out alive.

The very next afternoon, some one having had occasion to go to an outbuilding where Mr. Aucoin keeps his corn, and where he had, on the morning of that day, chained a very fine slut of his, found with horror a third child of this unfortunate gentleman-stretched on the floor, in a pool of blood. Prom a pamphlet jublished before the last Presidential election, in which the right of secession was discussed at length and with shility, we quote as follows:

The delegates of New York, in their ratification, "declare and make known."

On every battle field since the days of the Revolution the patriotic sons of South Carolina had been found in greater numbers, according to her population, than these of superior with grateful admiration the carolina regiment in the war with the carolina regiment in the patriotic sons of South Carolina had been found in greater numbers, according to her population, than the carolina had been found in greater numbers, according to her population, than the carolina had been found in greater numbers, according to her population, than the carolina had been found in greater numbers, according to her population, than the carolina had been found in greater numbers, according to her population, than the carolina had been found in greater numbers, according to her population, than the carolina had been found in greater numbers, according to her population, than the carolina had been found in greater numbers, according to her population, than the carolina had been found in greater numbers, according to her population, than the carolina had been found in greater numbers, according to her population, than the carolina had been found in greater numbers, according to her population, than the carolina had been found in greater numbers, according to her population, the carolina had been found in greater numbers, according to her population, the carolina had been found in greater numbers, according to her population, the carolina had been found in greater numbers, according to her population, the carolina had been found in greater numbers, according to her population, the carolina had been found in greater n Carolina regiment in the war with Mexico They went into battle on Taylor's line one thousand strong, and came out of the idoody contest with the loss of half of their men. When, after being transferred to Scott's division, the reinnant of this little band of heroes appeared before the fortress of Chepultepee, the commanding officer told his men that a charge must be read. for their common interest, security, and protection.

"That the powers of government may be reassumed by the people whenever it shell be come necessary to their happiness; that every power, jurisdiction, and riskly, which is not by the said Constitution clearly delegated to the Congress of the United States or the departments of the Government thereof, remains to the people of the secretal States, or to their respective State Governments, to whom they may have granted the same," etc., etc.

The New York Convention certainly stated the case with great precishon and clearness. All power he derived from the people; Congress has no power except what is clearly delegated; all power not delegated remains to the people of the secretal States, or their State Governments, and the people may reassume all granted power whenever it shall be necessary for their happiness. There could not be a clearure epitome of the doctrine of secession or resumption. And that there might be no missue, or mignificant to the matter the second commissioners?

What will Mr. Lincoln do with the Secession Commissioners?
The Commissioners appointed by the socalled Southern Confederacy to treat with the new Administration, are expected to arrive in this city within a few days. Their object is to confer with the Government on the subject of the United States property they have seized—such as fortifications, It must be observed that these are not proposed amendments to the Constitution, but declarations of right and of common understanding in relation to the meaning of the Constitution. New York proposes them, immediate attempts will be made to take Fort Sunter and Fort Pickens. I have no doub; he will sternly refuse them, of the Constitution. New York proposes her anoendments in a separate paper.

Virgina in her ratification declares and makes known—

"That the power granted under the Constitution, being derived from the people of the United States, may be resumed by them, whenever the same shall be pervert.

The states of the Constitution of the United States, may be resumed by them, whenever the same shall be pervert.

YESTERDAY NOON'S DISPATCHES. From Washington.
Washington, March S.-An Immer oneourse of spectators are here, especially com the West. Missouri, Kentucky, Viriula, and Indiana are largely represented. Rumors touching the Cabinet appointees re still contradictory. It is understood ney will not be announced till after the langural.

All the appropriation bills have been Numbers of threatening letters are still ent to Mr. Lincoln, and quietly consigned sent to Mr. Lincoln, and quietly consigned to the flames.

The Hon. John Covode started on Wednesday for New Hampshire to stimp the State during the pending canvass.

A dispatch from Montgomery says that the lariff recently enacted by the new Confederacy will be immediately amended so as to impose an export duty of one per c. nt. on cotton, tobacco, and rice. All breadstuffs, tea. cotton, meats, and jewelry will be admitted free.

The stringele on Saturday evening, in the presence of Mr. Lincoln, on the Cablnet appointments, was very exciting; the friends of the various aspirants pushing their claims with great vehiciment, until the President elect said, "Gentlemen it is evident some one must take the responsibility of these appointments, and I will do it. My Cabinet is complete. The positions are not definitely assigned and will not be until I announce them privately to the gentlemen whom I have selected to be my constitutional advisers." Quiet was immediately restored. Mr. Lincoln then sent to Mr. Seward and submitted to him his inaugural. The Senator concurred beartily in the greater part, but suggested a few modifications which were acceuted. sent to Mr. Seward and submitted to him his inaugural. The Senator concurred beartily in the greater part, but suggested a few modifications which were accepted, and the document declared complete. The Maryland delegation has gone home in disgust at Lincoln's determination to put Chase and Blair in the Cabinet. They declared there was no hope of retaining their State in the Union. Lincoln replied empha ically: "Gentlement, the affair is decided; my Cabinet is formed."
It is runnored to-night that a large body of men have come ou from Baltimore and Virginia, including a detachment of Ping Uglies.

Fears are still entertained of Lincoln's safety, but he said to-night, "I am here to take what he my right, and I shall take it. I anticipate no trouble, but should it come I am prepared to meet it."

Five hundred special police have been detailed, including detectives from Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and Boston.

A large body of Wiled Awakes are also here, said to be thoroughly organized, but make no public demonstration.

From New York.

New York, March 4.—Letters from Montgomery, received at Washington, say that a special envoy left the former place several days ago for the Federal Capital, and is supposed to be there now. He is instructed to present his credentials immediately after the inauguration as Ambassador from the Southern Confederacy, and will ask its recognition by the United States. He will insist upon an immediate answer, and, lailing to get it, will retire. His fall-ure to obtain a recognition, it is understood at Montgomery, will be followed by an attack on Forts Sumter and Pickens, and thus an issue of force will be precipitated on the new Administration. Whether this programme will be carried out, depends somewhat, probably, on the character of Mr. Lincoln's inaugural.

THE AMALGAMATION OF LANGUAGES.-There la s growing tendency in this age to appropriate the mest expressive words of other languages, and al-ter a while to incorporate them into our own; the the word Cephalle, which is from the Greek, sig-microst with the control of the co ilfying "for the head," is now becoming popular zed in connection with Mr. Spaiding's great Head ache ramedy, but it will soon be used in a mor score ramedy, but it will soon be used in a more reneral way, and the word Cephalle will become as common as Flectrotype and many others whose distinction as foreign words has been worn away by common usage until they seem "native and to the manor born."

makes known any deviation whatever from the natural state of the brail, and viewed in this light it may be looked on as a safeguard intended to give notice of disease which might otherwise escape attention, till too late to be remedied; and its indications should never be neglected. Headaches may be classified under two names, this Symptomatic and Idiopathic. Symptomatic Headache is exceedingly common and is the precursor of a great variety of diseases, amang which are Apoplexy, Gout, Rheamatism, and all febrile diseases. In its nervous form it is sympathetic of disease of the stomach constituting sick headache, of worms, constipation and other disorders of the howels, as well asrenal and netrine affections. Diseases of the heart are very frequently attended with Headaches: Anæmia sud plethora are also affections which frequently occasion Headache. Idiopathic Headaches: Anæmia sud plethora are also affections which frequently occasion Headache, sometimes coming on suddenly in a state of apparently sound health and prostrating at onca the mental and physical energies, and in other instances it comes on slowly, heradded by depression of spirits or accribity of temper. In moetinstances the pain is in the front of the head, overone or beyes, and sometimes provoking vomiting; under this class may also be animed New Yoling. yes, and sometimes provoking vomiting; under his class may also be named Neur ligita. For the treatment of either class of Headacheth Cephalic Pills have here found a sure and aferem edy, relieving the most acute pains in a few minutes, and by its subtle power aradicating the diseases o which Headache is the unerring index.

Constipation or Cositiveness. No one of the "many lils flesh is heir to" is so prev-No one of the "many ills fiesh is helr to" is so prevalent, to little understood, and so much neglected as Cositiveness. Often originating in carelessness, or sedentary habits; it is regarded as a slight disorder of too little consequence to excite anxiety, while in resulty it is the precureor and companion of many of the most fatal and dangereous diseases, and unless early cradicated it will bring the sufferer to an untimely grayer. Among the libeton arise of the untimely grave. Among the likher evils of which cositiveness is the usual attendant are Headache Colle, Rhenmatism, Foul Breath, Piles, and others of like usture while along train of frightni diseases such as Malignant Fever Abcesses, Dysentery, Diarrhoa, Dyspersia, Apopleay, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Hynchen (Hynchen Linds et al., 1988). Hysteria, Hypochondriasis, Melancholy, and Insa try, first indicate their presence in the system by this alarming eymptom. Not unfrequently the diseases named originate in Constitution, but take on an independent existence unless the cause is eradicated in an early stage. From all these considerations it ollows that the disorder should receive immediate attention whenever it occurs, and no person should nestlect to set a ho of Cephalic Pilis on the first ap-pearance of the complaint, as their timely use will expet the insidious approaches of disease and de-stroy the dangerous foe to human life.

OFFICE LOUISVILLE COURIER, Monday Even'd, Maich 4, 1881. 5
There was a decided increase in the demand for loans to-day, owing to the heavy payments which fell due, and in some cases a great deal of diffleulty was experienced in negotiating loans, but as far as we could lear tall of our merchants met their paper with that promptness which has always characterized Lonlsville merchants. Uncurrent money and exchange are mailtered. MONDAY EVEN'G, March 4, 1861. are nualtered.

The sales to-day were limited to some 230 fbls of city packed at $17 25, at which price the market closed broyant. The advices from the South and the East continue favorable, and at the close of the market prices had a tendency upward, and holders were less disposed to sell than in the morning. We are of the opinion that prices will soon advance, and that during the spring they will rule high. The demand for bacon was good, and the market closed very firm at the advance established Saturday, with sales of nearly 100 casks at 75% for shoul ders, 9% c for the sldes, 10% (10% c for clear sides, Bulk meats and lard were dull, with nothing doing.

Louisville, March 1.

The political trombes are still unadjusted, and finerelal matters have not improved during the last month. Most planters are in need if manny, the failure of the crop of cereals and other productions in the tobacco regions, and their productions in the tobacco regions, and cleaving them but little to sell, and isvored by a mild and open winter, which permitted them to handle and prize their tobacco without in terruption, they forced the article into inland markets at an early period.

The scaport markets not holding out period cubar indusements at present, we see an incommonly large supply of tobacco in our sales. Prices for lugs and common leaf are, therefore, sometimes barely maintained, but good qualities remain firm and continue to rule high, the new crop showing but fittle of it. Fat heavy leaf is very scarce.

Sweet old tobacco is as high as before and is much sought after.

All profess to be content in the Union if all constitutional rights can be maintained. It true, then, that any right pixinly written in the Constitution has been denied? Ithink not Happily, the human mind is so constituted that no party can reach to the andacity of doing this. Think, if you can, of a single instance in which a plainly written provision of the Constitution has ever been deuied. It by the mere force of numbers, a majority shall cervive a minority of any clearly written constitutional right, it President's Inaugural Address. Fellow-Citizens of the United States: In compliance with a custom as old as the Government lisetf, I appear before you to address you briefly and to take in your presence the oath preseribed by the Constitution of the United States, taken by the President before he enters upon the execution of his olice. I do not consider it precessing at treasure for me to discover a majority shull deprive a influently of an elearly writter, constitutional right, I might, in a more point of view, justify revolution. It certainly would it such right were a vital one; but such is not on ease. All the vital rights of malnoritle and of individuals are so plainly assure to them by affirmations and negotiations guarantees and prohibitions in the Constitution which the tentry virgica personalization. t necessary at present for me to discus thecessary at present for me to discuss those matters of administration about which there is no especial anxiety or excitement. The apprehension scens to exist among the people of the Southern States that by the accession of a Republican Administration their property and their peace and personal security are to be endangered. There has never been any reasonable cause for such apprehension, endangered. There has never been any reasonable cause for such apprehension: indeed, the most ample evidence to the contrary has all the while existed and been open to their inspection. It is found in nearly all the published speeches of him who now addresses you. I do but quote from one of those speeches when I declare that I have no purpose directly or indirectly to interfere with the institution of sarvery in the States where it exists. I nelieve f have no lawful right to do so, and I have no inclination to do so. Those who nominated and elected me dild so with the full knowledge that I had made this and many similar declaratious, and had never recanted them; and more than this, they placed guarantees and promotions in the Consti-nution, that controversies never arise con-cerning them. But no organic law can be framed with a provision specifically appli-cable to every question which may occur in practical administration. No foresight can anticipate, nor any document of reasonable length centain, express provisions for all possible questions.

Shalf fugltives from labor be surrendered by National or State authority? The Constitution does not expressly say. Must Congress protect slevery in the Territories? The Constitution does not expressly say. Whenever questions of this class spring up in our controversies, and we devide upon them into any lorities and minorities, it the minority will not acquiesce the majority must, or the Government must cease. Thereis no other afternative for continuing the Government but acquiesce ence on the one side or the other. If a minority in such case will seeded, or rather than acquiesce they make a precedent which in turn will divide and min them, a minority of their cwn will seede from them onable leagth contain, express provision I them; and more than this, they p o the platform for my acceptance as a la o themselves and to me the clear and en thatic resolution which I now read: Resolved. I now reiterate these sentiments, and doing so, I only press upon the public at tention the most conclusive evidence of which the case is susceptible, that the property, peace, and security of no section are to be in any wise endangered by the now incoming Administration. I add, too that all the protection which consistency. now incoming Administration. I add, too, that all the protection which, consistently with the Constitution and the laws, can be given, will be cheerfully given to all the States when lawfully demanded, for whatever cause, as cheerfully to one section as to another. There is much controversy about the delivering of fugitives from service or labor. The clause I now read is 28 plainly written in the Constitution as any other of its pravisions. her of its provisions, straint by constitutional checks and limita-tions, and always changing easily with the deliberate changes of popular opinions and sentiments, is the only true sover lyn of a free people, whoever rejects it, does of necessity, fly o mureby or despotism. Unaminity is impossible; the rule of a mi-nority, as a permanent arrangement, is wholly inadmissable, so that in rejecting the microly with the american "No person held to service or lubor in on state under the laws thereof, escaping int nother, shall, in consequence of any law e-egulation therein, be discharged from sue ervice or labor, but shall be delivered up, o latin, to the party to whom such service or la-nor may be due."

It is searcely questioned that this provision was intended by those who made it for the reclaiming of what we call tugltive slaves, and the intention of the law given, is the law all naembers of Congress swear their support to—the whole Constitution—to this provision as much as to any other. To the proposition, then, that slaves, whose case come within the terms of this clause and shall be delivered up, their oaths are manninons. Now if they would make the efforting of other proposition of the propositi hall be delivered up, their oaths are man-mons. Now if they would make the effort u good temper, could they not with equal manimity frame and pass a law by means of which to keep good that unanimone oath. There is some difference of opinion whether this clause should be enforced by Na-ional or State authority, but surely that difference is not a very material one; if the lave is to be surrendered, it can be of but title consequence to him or to others by le consequence to him or to others which authority it is done, and should one in any case he content that his oat, shall be unkept in a merely unsubstantia controversy as to how it shall be kept?—Again: In any law upon this subject ought not all the safeguards of libert known in civilized and humane jurisprantages. nce he introduced, so that a tro may not, in any case, be surrendered as a slave? And might it not he well, at the same time, to provide by law for the cut forcement of that clause in the Constitution which guarantees that the citizens of each state shall be entitled to all the privileges and improvide of catters. each State shall be entitled to all the priri-leges and immunities of citizons in the sev-eral States? I take the official oath to-day with no mental reservations, and no purpose to construct the Constitution and laws by any hypercritical rules; and while I do not choose now to specify particular acts of Congress as proper to be enforced, I do suggest that it will be much safer for all in official and private stations to conform to, and abide by, all those acts which stand unrepealed, than to violate any of them, trusting to find impunity in having them held to be unconstitutional.

Is there such perfect identity of interests among the States to compose a new Union as to produce harmony only, and prevent revewed secession? CRITTENDEN, proceeding, said othing was more banentable than the great change in the condition of the United States. A few months ago we were an united, happy people. Now the Union was dismembered and the same spirit was making dangerous progress.

The noise in the gallaries so much interested it was impossible to hear nands of that try minal; nor is there in this view any assault upon the Court or Judges. It is a duty from which they may not shrink to decide cases properly brought before them, and it is no land of theirs if others seek to turn their decisions to political purposes. Monday's Proceedings. Monday's Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—SENATE.—Discussion continued for some time between Messrs. MASON, DOUGLAS, and PUGII.

Mr. MORRILL said when the Senator from Illinois shook his bead in that quarter, he had a right to object. We are standing at the end of a six years' terrible agitation, and it all comes from the trifling administration of bread pills, and is to end in the dissolution of the Union; and yet gentlemen propose to practice a new policy hegun six years ago ou the slavery quastion. The Southern Slave States united tion. The Southern Slave States uplie upon it because it was Democratic, an seven of those States are now out of the l'nion. He disclaimed even the belief the part of any hody of men at the North that Congress has the right to Interlere with slavery in the States. The Senator from Kentucky says the whole difficulty is in regard to the Territory of New Mexico. If that be so, it is really no difficulty, but here the account of the Congress of the State of State of the Congress of the State of Stat here is a proposition to amend the Consti-tution by recognizing slavery, and it is that against which the Senators protest.
